Conſtantinople, Auguſt 2. N. S.

A Diſcovery has lately been made here of a dangerous Conſpiracy that had been formed, in order to make an Inſurrection, and to depoſe the Sultan, which happened in the following manner: The Viſier Azem having received Intelligence the 30th paſt of a Meeting of part of the Conſpirators, immediately ſent for the Mufti and Oſman Paſha; but before they got to his Houſe, he mounted on Horſeback, and went with his Guard of Janiſaries to the Place of Aſſembly, where, after ſome Reſiſtance, about 20 Perſons were ſeized. They had prepared their Arms and Ammunition, and were to have put their Deſign in Execution in a few days. The Chief Men engaged in this Conſpiracy, were, the Niſangi Paſha, a Viſier of the Bench, and Haſſan Effendi, who had been Caddee of Cairo, and was one of the Commiſſioners diſpatched hence to Adrianople by the Rebels at the time of the late Revolution. It is found to have ſpread its Roots farther than it was at firſt believed, there being near 1000 Perſons of all Ranks concerned in it. If it had continued undiſcovered till they had thought fit openly to declare themſelves, 'tis uncertain what Numbers of People might have joined them, and how far the Attempt might have ſucceeded, in a Place where the People are always diſpoſed to Sedition and Novelty. The Grand Signior was with his Seraglio diverting themſelves under Tents in ſome Woods three Leagues from this City; but upon Notice of this Event, he came the ſame night to Town; and the Danger being over, returned to his Diverſions the next day. There is a Report, That Count Teckely is turned RomanCatholick, and is preparing to remove from Iſmit, but it is not ſaid whither; and that, in order thereunto, he has ſent his Plate and other precious Effects to the Jeſuits College at Galata.

Venice, Sept. 19. Our Senate having appointed Signior Delfino to be their Proveditor-General at Breſcia, in the room of Signior Molino, he is gone thither to take Poſſeſſion of that Employment. The Governor of Bergamo has made an Agreement with Prince Eugene for the furniſhing of the Imperial Army under his Command with Forage and Proviſions out of that Country. His Highneſs, as is ſaid, has given Orders for the building of Barracks in the Diſtrict of Gera d'Adda for the uſe of his Army; whence it is conjectured that he intends to continue in thoſe Parts till the Arrival of the Reinforcements he expects from Germany, from whence he daily receives freſh Supplies of Men and Ammunition. He has ordered the Roads from his Camp towards Crema to be enlarged, and Bridges to be made over the River Seriole; from whence ſome judge that he has a Deſign upon that Town, he having alſo ſent a Detachment that way. The Duke of Vendoſme continues in the ſame Camp near Rivolta, and has ordered the Town of Bordolano to be fortified, intending to keep a Gariſon there, for the better preventing the Excurſions of the Imperialiſts into the Mantuan and Cremoneſe. They write from Breſcia, That the Prince of Anhalt Deſſau is perfectly cured of the Wound he received in the late Action near Treviglio; and that Prince Alexander of Wirtemberg is alſo in a fair way of Recovery.

Wilna in Lithuania, Sept. 12. The Muſcovite Forces left this Place the 10th Inſtant, and are marched in two Columns to a Camp marked out for them at Grodno. The Lithuanian Troops are poſted at Breſcici, and the Saxons along the River Narew, behind Tikozin; which Place being of Importance, is Gariſoned by 2000 Muſcovite Foot, and 500 Coſſacks. General Lewenhaupt, who commanded the Swediſh Forces in Courland, having Advice that the Czar of Muſcovy was advancing that way with part of his Troops, quitted that Province, and retired to Riga. The Czar is now before the Caſtle of Mittau, which Place is pretty well fortified, and has a good Gariſon in it. It is ſaid he intends, when he has reduced it, to rejoin the reſt of his Army.

Vienna, Sept. 19. Count Breuner, Lieutenant-Colonel of the Regiment which was commanded by the late Prince Joſeph of Lorrain, arrived here the 17th Inſtant from Piedmont: The Emperor has made him Colonel of that Regiment. Count Diemanſtein, Great Chamberlain to the Elector Palatine, came hither the ſame day from Duſſeldorp. That day alſo the Emperor ſettled the Regency of the Lower Auſtria, and conſtituted Baron Kirchbaun Deputy-Stadholder of this Province. His Imperial Majeſty is expected here this evening from his Palace called the Favorita, and intends on the 22d Inſtant to receive the Homage of the States of Auſtria, as being the Regent Arch-Duke, which will be performed with great Solemnity. Letters from Buda ſay, That General Herbeville, with the Imperial Army under his Command, was continuing his March towards Upper Hungary; and that the Detachment commanded by General Glockelsberg was advancing towards Tranſilvania.

Berlin, Sept. 26. The Landgrave of Heſſe-Caſſel came the 19th Inſtant in the evening from Swerin to Oranienbourg: The next day the King of Pruſſia and the Prince Royal went to meet his Highneſs, and brought him to Charlottenbourg. The 22d the Landgrave came with his Majeſty hither, and having ſeen the Caſtle, and other Curioſities of this Place, they returned to Charlettenbourg, from whence the Landgrave ſet out the day following towards Swerin. His Majeſty has made him a Preſent of a very fine Set of Horſes. General Flemming came hither the 21ſt, and having waited upon the King at Charlettenbourg, went back from thence towards Dreſden. They write from Courland, That the Caſtle of Mittau is ſurrendred to the Muſcovites upon Articles.

Franefort, Sept. 27. The Town of Druſenheim ſurrendred to the Count de Frieze the 24th Inſtant, and the Gariſon, conſiſting of about 400 Men, became Priſoners of War. Haguenau was inveſted the 26th, where the French have above 2000 Men: The Direction of that Siege is given to General Thungen; and we doubt not but that Gariſon likewiſe will be obliged to ſurrender at Diſcretion. Prince Lewis continues in his Camp at Wierſheim. By poſſeſſing himſelf of Druſenheim, he ſecures his Communication with the Lines of Stolhoffen; and the taking of Haguenau will make him Maſter of a great part of Alſace. It is thought his Highneſs will alſo attack Fort Louis, which, by the preſent Diſpoſition of his Forces, is in a manner blocked up.

From the Duke of Marlborough's Camp at Herentals, October 1. N. S. Yeſterday the Army made a Forage to the Right; and a Guard being poſted for the Security of the Foragers at the Village of Wechlerſandt, a Party of the Enemy came to the ſame Village, and being chal-
